

PRAYER LETTER 64

This letter is written by pastor Shant Agishian from Lebanon, a country where people are facing significant challenges. It is sent on behalf of the Union of the Armenian Evangelical Churches in the Near East (UAECNE).

«We glory in our sufferings, because we know that suffering produces perseverance; perseverance, character; and character, hope. And hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit, who has been given to us. »

Romans 5:3-5

Lebanon is currently facing significant challenges, including uncertainty, economic crisis, and regional conflicts. These issues have a profound impact on the daily lives of its citizens, creating an overall sense of hopelessness within the community.

Additionally, there is widespread fear of a potential escalation in the ongoing conflicts, further heightening the concerns of the people. The profound challenges we face collectively highlight the necessity to seek strength, wisdom, and guidance from our heavenly Father.

In the midst of facing numerous challenges, we persist in placing our trust in God, who can instill hope within us and pour out His love into our hearts even in moments of hopelessness and uncertainty.

Heavenly Father, we humbly come before you with hearts filled with gratitude for the countless blessings you have given us. In our moments of weakness, we seek your strength to face the challenges that life presents. Grant us the courage to overcome difficulties and the resilience to navigate through trials. When we witness conflict and division among people in Lebanon, may your love reign in our hearts, inspiring us to be instruments of peace and unity.

Lord Jesus, our Savior, during these trying times in our country, we deeply pray for your grace to sustain us. Give us the wisdom to stand firm in our faith, even during hardship. May your guiding light help us to walk in your path, leading us closer to you and strengthening our commitment to live faithful to your teachings.

Oh God, be with us through the presence of your Holy Spirit in each step of our journey, so that we may walk in the way of righteousness and experience the peace that comes from living according to your divine plan.

In your infinite mercy, grant us the strength to face challenges, the love to bridge divides, the wisdom to navigate uncertainties, and the guidance to walk in your peace.

We offer this prayer in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.
